About Pashmina

Pashmina , also popularly known as cashmere . "Pashm" is an old persian word for fine wool. Pashmina is derived from pashm. They are found in the mountainous regions of nepal and central Asia in the Himalayas. It is known as King of all wool for it's extraordinary quality of softness, warmness and lightness. The cashmere comes from the underbelly of Chyangra (Goats), which grazes high in the himalayas.

Revelation

Sublime Art Sensual Concept

The precious tradition of sweater making , developed by our ancestors and sweater masters. Adhering to ancient traditions and practices, we use simplicity to produce stunning result. Our Cashmere sweaters are woven by hand flat knitting machine. The hand flat knitting machine manufacturing of cashmere sweaters requires a lot of skill and knowledge.

Mending is the process where woven sweater are checked for damages. Menders fill in the missing yarns with the help of needles and pashmina yarn.

This is the process of giving the sweaters the color that customers wants the sweaters to have. In this process the sweaters are dyed in big vessels at 100-120 degree temperature. The sweaters have to be constantly stirred in order to give the sweaters uniform color. Only the metal and azo free dyes are used, making the sweater and other Cashmere products completely eco-friendly. Dyeing is also done by hand, and each piece individually.

The sweaters are washed after it is Dyed, in order to wash away the odor and allow the shrink of the sweaters to prevent it from damage later. It is also done to remove the stains, which it could have collected during the process of making the sweater.

For enhancing the quality and to give the final touch ironing is done. We generally use Steam vaccum press iron.

This is the process of taging the company label in the final finished products . Generally the labels are taged in the upper and lower-left side of the pashmina/cashmere products.

Finally the final finished products are packed in attractive and beautiful plastic bags. Packing is done to protect the product from dust and insects. We use different size of plastic bags according to our pashmina/cashmere product.
